CLEVELAND MONEY MARKET.

There is no need of sacrifice at all if they understand how to form good tones with good articulation. We have heard singers sing beautifully and even gloriously, who uttered their words as distinctly as though they were speaking in common conversation. We remember of hearing that good old song, "Home, sweet life," sung with such tender pathos, and such sweet utterance of the word "home," sung with such tender pathos, and such sweet utterance of the word "home," as to bring tears to our eyes in remembrance of that dear, sacred spot hundred of miles away. There is power in music, untold power, if rendered aright. But nothing is so excruciating to a sensitive and trained ear, as the murdering of musical sound.
